DRIPPING SPRINGS NAMES ZIMMERMAN AS INTERIM AD/COACH

DRIPPING SPRINGS, Texas—Dripping Springs High School Offensive Coordinator Galen Zimmerman has been appointed interim athletic director/head football coach at Dripping Springs High School, Superintendent Bruce Gearing announced today (April 21).

The district will complete the hiring process, which will include posting the position for internal candidates only for the required 10-day period. An announcement of a permanent head coach/AD will be made in May after that process is complete and a recommendation is approved by the Board of Trustees.

“I have spent the past week meeting with stakeholder groups including the Board to hear feedback on the position, the football program and athletic operations in our district,” said Dr. Gearing. “I understand stability is important to our student-athletes and we will move forward quickly to ensure they have the right environment and leadership to be successful.”

Zimmerman, who came to DSISD in the spring of 2014, was the head football coach and athletic coordinator at Frisco Liberty High School from 2009-14, after spending three years as the school’s offensive coordinator. Previously, he served as an assistant coach at Hebron, Lewisville, and Noblesville (Ind.) high schools. Zimmerman is a 1997 graduate of Taylor University (Ind.).

The Tigers are scheduled to hold spring practice from May 4-28, 2015.

Joe McBride, who served as the Tigers’ head football coach and athletic director for one year, announced his resignation on April 8, 2015, to return to Coppell ISD as athletic director.
