DSMS Dominates One-Act Play District Contest

Dripping Springs Middle School's entries in the district One-Act Play Contest took first and second places for the second consecutive year. The production of "Patchwork Quilt" won first place and "Mama Won't Fly" captured second. Four schools were represented at the contest, which was held at Marble Falls High School March 5. There is no regional or state contest at the middle school level.

Many Dripping Springs students received individual honors.

Katie Haberman was honored as Best Actress for her portrayal of Mrs. Willis in "The Patchwork Quilt." Katie actually stepped in as understudy when the original lead was unable to perform.

Receiving spots on the All-Star Cast were Gesena Mitchhart, Jane Unger, Riley Berkholz, Cassie Martin, R.C. Trlica, Austin Harper, and Cameron Duran. In fact, DSMS students received seven of the 10 All-Star Cast honors.

Of the eight total students earning honorable mention, five were from DSMS: Aisley Pope, Trinity Ceh, Austin Harper, Rachel Reeves and Eliana Glenn.

Taylor Waters (Quilt) and Hope McFarlane (Mama) both were named Best Technician.

Directors are Larin Hinson and Meg Steiner
