STUDENTS PLACE AT STATE HOSA COMPETITION

Five DSHS students competed at the HOSA state competition last weekend. The team of Elaina Erickson and Avery Herron placed among the top five teams in the state, finishing fourth in Health Education, Lisa Deyes was sixth in Clinical Nursing, and the team of Emily Argento-Bird and Liliana Reyes was eighth in Forensic Medicine.

HOSA is Health Occupation Students of America. It is an international organization in which secondary and post-secondary students compete in medical and health related knowledge and skills events.
