DRIPPING SPRINGS ISD TO START ATTENDANCE ZONE DISCUSSION

DRIPPING SPRINGS, Texas—Dripping Springs ISD soon will start the process to determine new elementary and middle school attendance zones in preparation for the opening of a new elementary school and new middle school in August of 2017.

An administrative committee will work with the district demographer (PASA/Population and Survey Analysts) to develop options for boundaries, then input will be gathered through six public forums.

Public forums are scheduled for:

- Wednesday, Nov. 30, 8:00 a.m., Board Room, DSISD Central Office
- Wednesday, Nov. 30, 6:00 p.m., Board Room, DSISD Central Office
- Wednesday, Dec. 14, 8:00 a.m., Board Room, DSISD Central Office
- Wednesday, Dec. 14, 7:00 p.m., Cafeteria, Rooster Springs Elementary
- Thursday, Jan. 26, 8:00 a.m., Board Room, DSISD Central Office
- Thursday, Jan. 26, 6:30 p.m., Cafeteria, Dripping Springs Middle School

Revisions will be made as needed throughout the process before the committee finalizes a recommendation to be brought before the DSISD Board of Trustees for a final decision. This is expected to occur at the Feb. 27 Board meeting.

Suggestions are still being accepted for names of the two new schools. Ideas for names of one or both of the new schools may be made using an online form that can be found at <https://goo.gl/b0mks5>. Submissions must be received by Nov. 10, 2016. More information is available at: www.dsisdtx.us/newschools.
