DSHS STUDENT IS FINALIST IN STATE DESIGN CONTEST

Dripping Springs High School junior Melissa Richardson is one of two finalists in a statewide logo design contest sponsored by the State Board of Education (SBOE). Students were tasked with creating a logo for the state's Permanent School Fund. A total of 521 entries from high schoolers around Texas were submitted.

The top two entries will be recognized at the SBOE meeting on Feb. 1, 2019, at which time the winning design will be announced. Both students will receive an award and prize money.
