DATE: March 27, 2018

NO MAKE-UP DAY FOR JANUARY WEATHER CANCELLATION

Based on the number of minutes required for instruction by the state of Texas and the waivers that Dripping Springs ISD has been granted for the current school year, it has been determined and approved by the Board that May 25, 2018, will NOT be needed as a makeup day for the school cancellation on Jan, 16, 2018. That date, which is the Friday of Memorial Day weekend, is designated on the school calendar as the first make-up day and was announced as a school day following the January weather event.

However, in the event of any future weather cancellations this year, May 25 could be added back as a make-up day.
