SYCAMORE SPRINGS ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL ANNOUNCED

The Dripping Springs ISD Board of Trustees unanimously approved the recommendation of Kristen Ray as principal of Sycamore Springs Elementary at its July 20 meeting. Ms. Ray has been employed since 2014 as a senior consultant for The Leader In Me, which is part of the Franklin Covey Education Division.

Ms. Ray began her career in education at Roosevelt ISD where she taught first grade in addition to serving as a Title 1 reading teacher. From there she moved to North East ISD as a second grade teacher. She continued for an additional 12 years at North East ISD serving as both assistant principal and principal for several different campuses.

Ms. Ray earned her bachelor's degree in human development from Texas Tech University and her master's degree in educational administration from Wayland Baptist University.

"I am honored to serve as the new principal at Sycamore Springs Elementary," said Ms. Ray. "I look forward to partnering with the community, parents, and the amazing staff to create an empowering culture of learning for our students."
